Peter Crimmins Scoreboard

Assumption College Kilmore

A landmark upgrade for a footy factory

Assumption College Kilmore (ACK) has long been known as one of Australian football's great nurseries, with an alumni list that includes Brownlow medallists, premiership captains and household AFL names. It's fitting, then, that the school's ongoing investment in world-class sporting infrastructure continues on Carroll Oval, its premier football ground, named in honour of long-serving coach Ray Carroll, who spent 53 years at Assumption shaping students both in the classroom and on the field.

Why it matters

The Peter Crimmins Scoreboard isn't just functional infrastructure, it's a piece of the college's football heritage, honouring one of its most celebrated former students. Any upgrade works needed to meet the standard of a facility with that history and everyday use in mind, from durability under weather and heavy foot traffic on match days, to a clean, professional finish that matches the calibre of the surrounding facilities.

Larnec's pre-hung door solution delivered exactly that: a door that's ready to install, built for longevity, and finished to a standard befitting a scoreboard that carries so much significance for the school and its football program.

Continued involvement in sporting facilities

This project adds to Larnec's growing track record supplying access solutions for sporting and community facilities across Australia. From grandstands and clubrooms to scoreboards and pavilions, Larnec continues to support the organisations building and maintaining the infrastructure behind Australian sport, at grassroots and elite levels alike.

Assumption College's ongoing investment in facilities like Carroll Oval underscores the importance of pairing sporting heritage with modern, reliable infrastructure and Larnec is proud to play a part in that.
